Papa Joe's Ride

An annual, highly anticipated event, it grew from a humble beginning to now be the largest organized motorcycle ride in northeastern Ontario. Joseph A. Lefebvre (Papa Joe) lost his battle with cancer in 1993. A year later, eight of his close friends got together and rode their bikes in his memory. What started out as a grassroots project has grown to hundreds of riders and continues to attract enthusiasts from around the province.

Since 1999 this Ride has raised significant funds toward the building of the new Hospital as well as needed medical equipment for cancer care. This event is a fitting tribute to a man who loved to ride.
